

Abijith, (2018-2020) Operation Executive, Sharaf Group companies Dubai. The Asan Institute of Management was the only place where I learned to overcome my stage fear, and this experience has helped me immensely, not just in my professional life but also in my personal life.

SHRUTHI GOVINDANKUTTY (2012-2014)

Business Immigration Analyst at Fragomen immigration services.

Over the course of time, I have developed a transferable set of competencies that have significantly shaped my journey. While I won't focus on the knowledge aspect here, I want to emphasize the skills and mindsets that have helped me consistently raise the bar of excellence. Reflecting on my two-year journey, I can see how fundamental skills such as strategic planning, optimism, coaching, and self and time management were cultivated at a grassroots level, playing a pivotal role in my growth post-graduation.

Ms. Janani, 2020-2022, HR consultant at a private consultancy services.

As an alumna of the Asan Institute of Management, I take immense pride in our esteemed institution, known for its excellent faculty, robust infrastructure, and dedicated management. It was a place where we not only received quality education but also learned valuable life lessons. I am deeply grateful to our beloved faculty members, who guided us through every step of our journey—be it projects, seminars, viva sessions, or examinations. The cherished memories of our college days remain close to my heart. With the unwavering support and motivation from both the management and faculty, I was able to achieve the distinction of securing 9th rank at the University of Madras for the academic years 2020-2022.

Akhil Pulakkat Melethil 2021-2023

°Research and Development Specialist at the Observatory of Entrepreneurship and Innovation, University of Luxembourg.

°Master's Student in Entrepreneurship and Innovation, University of Luxembourg.

AIM was a pivotal phase in shaping both my professional and academic aspirations. The comprehensive curriculum, coupled with the mentorship of experienced faculty, provided me with a strong foundation in management principles and practical insights for tackling real-world challenges. The collaborative environment at AIM fostered critical thinking and nurtured leadership qualities that have been instrumental in my professional growth. Today, I am proud to serve as a Research and Development Specialist at the Observatory of Entrepreneurship and Innovation in Luxembourg, where I contribute to advancing entrepreneurial ecosystems. AIM's emphasis on innovation also inspired me to pursue a second master's degree in Entrepreneurship and Innovation at the University of Luxembourg. This academic progression reflects the lasting influence of my education at AIM, which continues to guide my journey. I am profoundly grateful to AIM for equipping me with the skills, knowledge, and confidence to excel in both my career and academic endeavors.
